Electrical Program At Rapid River

RAPID RIVER-The boys and girls of the sixth grade class at Rapid River's Bay De Noc Elementary School held a program for the parents. A welcome was given by the science teacher, Mrs. William Mc-Govern, who explained the electricity study to the 60 parents and guests present at "The Electric City" program.

A class song "Welcome Parents", was sung with piano accompaniment by Mary Sigfrids. Dan Sundquist, program chairman, introduced the afternoon speakers, Darryl Lindquist, Allan Thorbjornson, Dean Hebert, Regina Olson, Mike Johnson, Dresden Beck, Tim Canary, Gary Gustafson, Mark Sigfrids, Hope Duncan, and Carol Viau. The speakers illustrated their talks with drawings, experiments, and a guided tour through the model city of Rapid River.

Scale Model

The boys and girls made a scale model of a section of Rapid River and then wired the small city electrically. The city consisted of several of the shopping center buildings; a church, the high school, grade school, one of the student's homes, and an electrical plant. Small 11/2 and 21/2 volt bulbs were used along with matching sockets, which were fastened in most of the buildings. Two six volt dry cell batteries were used to supply the electrical power. The parents viewed a film of the students working on their project. The film was taken by Mrs. McGovern to give the parents an opportunity to see their children working on the project.

Prior to the building and wiring of the city, the children studied the subject of electricity from their science text book and many library books. They did experiments with magnets, dry cells, bulbs, bells and sockets. Experiments were done to explain the difference between a series and a parallel circuit. Some of the students made electric motors and telegraphs for extra credit work.

Two local electricians, Robert Dutton and Keith Towns, visited the classroom and gave a demonstration of many electrical devices.

Visit to Plant

In conjunction with this unit the class visited the U. P. Power Plant in Escanaba. Two room mothers, Mrs. Oscar Olson and Mrs. George Homgren, accompanied the class along with two teachers.

The program was concluded with a lunch served by Vicky LaRose, Chris Salley, Marilyn Case and Sheryl McCullough.

Another Coffin Nail?

The wring-out of the small Upper Peninsula jobber, caught in a cost-price squeeze so severe that some industry spokesmen are fearful of a pulpwood cutter shortage next summer, faces one more squeeze in the Michigan Legislature.

State Senator Tom Schweigert (R-Petoskey), a professional forester, says there's a bill in the hopper at Lansing now which calls for workmen's compensation changes that would increase the cost of coverage for woods jobbers from $14 on every $100 of payroll to $20 per $100.

"That's an increase of nearly 50 per cent," said Schweigert "and I think it would really hurt. Only the big companies would be able to survive. Governor Romney has a proposal which would not be as steep."

The compensation changes being proposed in Lansing are the result of call by Governor Romney for workmen's compensation reform and even industry has agreed that some changes are overdue. Industry has declared, however, that while it recognizes its legal and moral responsibilities to help workers obtain rightful bonefits in case of injury: that the legislation proposed un to date in the Legislature goes beyond the concept of work injury and compensation for loss of wages.

It converts the workmen's compensation act of 1912 into a broad government program for socializing worker health, says business. And it puts heavy burdens upon the employer to pay the whole cost of the program while giving him little voice in the scope of its application and administration. Business says the bills as now written fail to correct the proven deficiencies as indicated by court actions.

Sensitive areas in the proposed legislation are beneincreases and extension of benefit periods. free choice of a physician. limitation of claims, attorney fees, and "total disability." The Valuable Venerables

Sitting comfortably on an 1875 music box at left is General Grant. Keeping company with the Civil War hero is the wine god Bacchus astride a barrel clock. As the clock ticks away, Bacchus tilts his bottle of wine.

Spring brings out more than the buds on trees. Popping up from all corners of the United States are the antique collectors. Fortunately for the amateur, unfortunately for the pro, the world of the true antique (1830 or before) and the world of the old (anything that belonged to grandmother) are hitting head on. Thousands of dollars are boxes, clocks, bronzes and steins. Shown here are some of the favorites displayed spent each year by weekend shoppers to redress their hasty decisions when they cleaned the family attic or hayloft. Among the top sellers this antique season are: music before throngs of admiring fans during the National Antiques Show in Madison Square Garden, New York City.

Scenic Highway Goals Studied

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)-A call for increased efforts to solve the problems of billboards, junkyards and litter along state highways was sounded here Tuesday by Michigan Tourist Council Chairman Wesley Tebeau of Muskegon.

He was among the main speakers at opening sessions of the 50th annual Michigan Highway Conference, a three-day event expected to attract some 900 persons.

Tebeau said a vital concern of the tourist industry is the federal regulation prohibiting business identification and information signs along the right of way of highways constructed with federal aid.

The billboard industry, meanwhile, argues against the regulation on grounds that the signs are informative. Tebeau urged that both sides solve the question "in the best interests of the people . . ."

He said the Tourist Council was encouraged by recent action in developing scenic highways and pledged support toward efforts to screen from the traveling public some 400 junk-

March Is MAYTAG MONTH

A Message of Importance To Our Good Customers

The Maytag Company has just produced a automatic washer with the ability to launder every washable fabric correctly and automatically!

No other washer has so many automatic features

Offers complete automatic Pre-Wash - Soak Cycle with Automatic Advance

For heavily soiled overalls, dirty diapers, children's play clothes and many other "special care" wash loads, set this Maytag on Pre-Wash. It fills and agitates, spins, then soaks in fresh water, and finally goes through a regular washing cycle you've picked, all automatically, with no resetting! And you have your choice of water temperatures for both wash and rinse cycles including COLD for delicate fabrics and washable woolens. For real economy this washer has pushbuttons for selecting the proper water level. You never waste water. You also have pushbuttons

If you were to pick one sport in which the Upper Peninsula produces its finest athletes it would have to be football, right? . . . Any follower of Upper Peninsula high school will be Indian war whoops and day. sports can tick off a dozen outstanding representatives of the area who have made a name in college football, and several tionally-charged St. John's Uniwho have even climbed to professional ranks with success.

Basketball is another story . . . Only a very limited number of Upper Peninsula stars are good enough to make it in college circles . . . In recent years, Stan Albeck of Northern Michigan University has had faith enough in Peninsula cagers to go with some of the best on his Wildcat quints . . . But you have to dig pretty deep in your memory to find many Peninsula athletes who have made it big in the sport of basketball . . . There are none in pro

Baseball is another sport that Upper Peninsula stars find it tough to crack . . . Take Escanaba's tremendous amateur baseball program as an example . . . When you get past the major sports, there are even fewer Upper Peninsula athletes who stand out in college or professional ranks . . . How many U.P. stars do you know in tennis, swimming, fencing, wrestling, track?

Although Escanaba is not noted for its winter sports program, the Upper Peninsula shines brightest in the specialty sports of skiing and skating . . . Some of the top ski jumpers in the world are spawned in communities such as Iron Mountain and Ishpeming while the Copper Country produces some of the greatest hockey players in the nation.

One of the rare exceptions among former Upper Peninsula athletes making a name for himself in college competition is Steve Clement of Iron Mountain, a middle distance runner on the Army track squad . . . Talk Of Steel by J. R. Williams Strike Heard

PITTSBURGH (AP) - In the rolling mills and around the blast furnaces, in the taverns, bars and union halls of this steel capital, workers today are talking about a strike.

"No contract by May 1, I say we go out," said a younger worker from U.S. Steel Corp.'s national tube division.

"A strike never helped anysaid an older man from Jones & Laughlin's big South Side works who remembers the bitter 116-day shutdown in 1959. Steel negotiators are hard at work in Pittsburgh rewriting the basic industry contract on a company basis. They have until May 1 before the United Steelworkers Union is free to strike.

Strike talk appears to be divided with older workers being cautious, younger ones more militant.

"We definitely don't want a strike, but we don't want to extend the contract," said Chester Obie, 45, a worker at the Jones & Laughlin plant.

Obie recalls the 1959 strike, longest in the industry's history. "We're still paying for it. I had money saved to buy a bar. Then when the strike came it all went - to eat, to live, to clothe my family, myself. I had noth-

1. Card of Thanks

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the many friends, neighbors and relatives who by their acts of kindness in the recent illness and death of our husband and father, Cyrus Martin, helped to lighten our burden of sorrow. Especially do we thank Pastor Wayne Monski, for his comforting words, the pallbearers, those who loaned and drove cars, the ladies of the Church, the music of the service, those who sent cards of sympathy and memorial cards, those who donated food, and the many friends who sent floral bouquets. We thank you
